PerformCare Awarded New Jersey Contract Systems Administrator (CSA) Contract

(Harrisburg, Pa. – June XX, 2009) – PerformCare, a national full-service behavioral health managed care organization, announced today that it had been selected to be the Contract Systems Administrator (CSA) by the New Jersey Department of Children and Families’ (DCF) Division of Child Behavioral Health Services (DCBHS). The contract begins September 2009 and runs for five years with two one year renewals.

Under this contract, PerformCare, together with its partner TAI, Inc., will assist New Jersey in enhancing its Systems of Care program. The Systems of Care program brings together services and resources from the various state agencies and community providers to coordinate and manage care for children, youth, and young adults using various services.

“We are honored to be selected by DCF’s Division of Child Behavioral Health Services as the Contract Systems Administrator for this exciting initiative,” said Dr. Richard Edley, President and CEO of PerformCare. “We see a great opportunity for improving the treatment outcomes of the youth and families while providing efficiencies to the providers.”

Under the contract, some of PerformCare’s responsibilities will include:

- Providing 24-hour, seven-day-a-week customer service/call center support;
- Providing utilization management, outlier management and care coordination;
- Coordinating access to services for all children, youth and young adults;
- Facilitating access to specialized services for children, youth and young adults;
- Providing quality and outcomes management and a system measurement program that supports DCF/DCBHS’ goal to promote best practices and assists the state in assuring compliance with state and federal guidelines;
- Implementing a complaints, reconsiderations and appeals process; and,
- Providing support for provider network development.

To support these administrative services, PerformCare and TAI, Inc., will provide a highly innovative and customized Management Information System (MIS) that offer flexibility, system integration, comprehensive information management and production of sophisticated and practical management reports. This new system will make the work of those delivering services more efficient, and give them more time to spend with the youth and families they serve rather than on entering data.

PerformCare will also implement its innovative KIDnet program, an outcomes management system which will help clinicians and youth receiving services understand the effectiveness of their treatments. PerformCare is currently developing the ability for KIDnet to do large-scale population analyses to help New Jersey and the provider delivery system truly understand what works for those in need and receiving services. KIDnet was developed through years of collaboration with the University of Maryland-Baltimore Children's Outcome Monitoring Center.

Although their technology offers many advantages, PerformCare understands the critical importance of building relationships in New Jersey.

“PerformCare was founded by providers, so we understand the importance of having strong relationships with the provider community,” said Dr. Edley. “We intend to develop these same, close relationships with the providers, advocacy organizations, and others in the communities we serve. We want people to know that we are here, and that we will listen and be responsive to their concerns.”
